

Mr Damilola Adebayo, a Cambridge-Africa PhD Scholar, Speaks to Nigerian Students in Nigeria About Studying in Cambridge

On 19th June 2018, Damilola Adebayo, a second year Cambridge-Africa PhD Scholar, was a member of a panel that addressed a group of 100 graduate students in social sciences and humanities at the University of Lagos, Nigeria, about graduate education in Europe. He spoke about his experience as a PhD student at the University of Cambridge, UK. Issues he discussed included:

- Identifying suitable graduate programmes
- Writing a proposal for a PhD project
- Identifying a potential supervisor
- Applying for the course and funding
- Adjusting to a new academic culture, conducting fieldwork and writing a dissertation.

Using outreach materials supplied by the Cambridge-Africa Programme, Damilola also showcased scholarship, grant and fellowship opportunities available for Africans at the University of Cambridge through the Cambridge-Africa Programme, the Cambridge Trust and the Gates Cambridge Trust.

